Grading Exams

For GradeCam exams, make sure that the top of the answer sheet has the applicant’s name, the PIN #, and the element filled in on their test booklet.

Depending on the number of examiners present, the VE team can elect to grade the exams as they come in or wait until the end of the examination session. Grading is an example of a task that can be delegated to non-certifying VEs by the VE in charge.

The VE-in-Charge is responsible for notifying the applicant whether they have passed (by giving them a signed CSCE) or failed. This should be done discretely and privately for those that have failed.
